Was Gouled a Victim of Pharaoh's Curse? Parallels Found in Recent Death

PARIS, France, May 28.—George Jay Gould may have been another "victim of the curse of the Pharaohs," according to a dispatch from Memphis telling of a report there since the American's death. Gould visited the tomb and jaded with Lord Carnarvon about the superstition. Neither took the Pharaoh legend seriously. In a few days symptoms similar to the death of Lord Carnarvon developed in Gould.

Art Student, Garbed in Khaki and 'Slinging' a Pack, Seeks 'Local Color' For Fiction—Doesn't Carry a Vanity Case

It's a long, long way from Frisco to Jacksonville, even as the crow flies, but that's the one Miss Florence Ferguson, "the girl in khaki," has chosen to make. She's in Port Arthur today, expecting to leave this afternoon. When she departs she will bear an inscription, "From San Francisco to Jacksonville," painted for her by the Ames Sign Co. here.

She's Called "Flo" here.

"Flo," as some of the newspaper fraternity have christened this winsome miss, is but 19 years of age. Does she stop? She says that's what she doesn't do nothing else but—over all of America's green-sward.

Miss Ferguson, decked out in a khaki uniform, knapsack slung from her shoulders, a hat of similar material, is making cross country hiking trips to gather first hand a vast number of experiences as a basis for a literary yearning that some day she hopes to gratify.

She left her home in Dallas on May 31, 1922, hiking to San Francisco. While in that city, she took a six months course in a school of fine arts, connected with the University of California. She worked her way through the school.

En route to Jacksonville, Fla., from California, she stopped over on a brief visit with her folks at Dallas.

Miss Ferguson goes on her hiking "as is," that is to say, she carries no cumbersome equipment—not even the well-known walker's staff. There (Turn to Page 2 Column 4)

SUICIDE VERDICT OF JUDGE JAMES

Mother Pins Wedding Ring to Son's Dress, Drowns

Choosing the waters of the Sabine-Neches canal as a means of ending the alleged despondency that burdened her mother heart, Mrs. May McNabb, aged 30, was found drowned in the canal at a point near the city slip, end of Shreveport avenue, early Sunday morning.

Her wedding ring, pinned on the dress of her 14-year-old son, who was crying for his mother in the dead of night, aroused the family of her brother-in-law, J. L. Payne, 824 Lake Shore drive, with whom she resided, was the only clue that gave surviving relatives any presumption of the tragic occurrence.

Intimate: Suicide, Claim

Relatives informed the police that Mrs. McNabb had retired in an apartment cheerful mood, but with the finding of the ring her previous intimations of suicide were recalled, and the worst was feared.

Answering the child's cries, relatives found the bed empty, and the kitchen door open. Believing she might have walked in her sleep at thorough search was made of the neighborhood, until the clue was discovered.

Going to the canal bank, the body was found floating face downward, about 200 feet from the Payne home, which fronts the lake. Notification of the police department and the undertaking establishment followed.

Burial This Morning

In the inquest held Sunday a verdict was returned of "death of suicide while temporarily insane."

Burial was made in the Magnolia cemetery, Beaumont, this morning at 10 o'clock. Funeral services were conducted at the graveside by Rev. T. Alvis Davis of this city.

Mrs. McNabb, who has been a widow for four years, is survived by her three children, Lucile, 10; Marie, 8; and baby Edward, 1; and her sister, Mrs. J. L. Payne with whom she made her home.

HERPIN ON JOB

New City Engineer Recent Arrival From Crowley, La.

J. O. Herpin, Port Arthur's new city engineer, is on the job today.

"I can't say anything about my plans and policies yet, because I'm just getting acquainted with my force and finding out what's to be done," Herpin said.

Since his graduation from the Louisiana state university in the engineering class of 1902, Herpin has been engaged in engineering projects in Mexico, the west, and for several years past was city manager in Crowley, La., where also he served four years as trustee of public property.

Herpin moved to Port Arthur about six weeks ago with his family. Until his appointment as city engineer he was with the Gulf Refining company here.

PLAN 3 MORE FIRE STATIONS

Logan and La Rose. Make Announcement

NEW EQUIPMENT, TOO

City Expansion Demands More Protection, Claim

Port Arthur is outgrowing the city fire department, and plans for immediate construction of three new fire stations, equipped with pumps and fire fighting apparatus, were outlined today by Mayor J. P. Logan and Fire Chief La Rose.

One of the proposed fire stations will be located in or near the Model addition; a second across the Kansas City Southern tracks, and the third probably on the corner of Nederland avenue and Austin avenue, or in that section of Port Arthur, according to the present plans.

Chief La Rose proposes to equip the new stations with pumps and fire fighting apparatus, were outlined today by Mayor J. P. Logan and Fire Chief La Rose.

With numbers of apartment houses going up in the city, a service and ladder truck is needed, Chief La Rose said today. "The heavy aerial, carrying towers and extra long ladders, is all right for the sections of the city where the streets are paved, but is too heavy to take on the shell streets," he pointed out.

Citizens Suggest Remedy For Jam Near Speedway

That some steps should be taken to handle the crowds and that additional provisions should be made at the new Port Arthur Speedway was the consensus of opinion expressed by prominent Port Arthurians here this morning as a result of congested traffic conditions immediately following the races on the dirt course yesterday afternoon at which a crowd estimated at 8,000 persons was in attendance and several thousand vehicles were jammed.

Suggests More Gates

This morning Frank Potts, traffic manager of the Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce and others today suggested that "there should be two entrance gates at the east end of the spacious field, similar to those at the west end, for Port Arthur vehicles to enter. The gates should be maintained at both ends of the field. Port Arthur vehicles being admitted and released at one section of the field, while cars from Beaumont should be held to the west entrance."

The congested traffic conditions developed along the highway and within the park grounds during the middle of the 24-mile free-for-all race. Automobiles carrying both Port Arthurians, Beaumonters and visitors, from other points began moving toward the large gates at the west end of the (Turn to Page 2 Column 3)

PARCELS MAIL GAINS 6 HOURS

Holdover at Beaumont 'Curved' by Inspector

An actual advance of from five to six hours in the delivery of parcels between Port Arthur and Beaumont has been made beginning Saturday. It was learned Monday in a statement from Postmaster S. L. Dunn.

All parcels formerly reaching Beaumont on the 8 and 9:15 night trains were held in Beaumont for morning delivery on the 11 o'clock Southern Pacific.

To prevent this long delay the local postoffice department took the matter up with the postoffice inspector, and beginning Saturday these parcels, which are generally from 20 to 40 in number, are brought to Port Arthur on the 7 o'clock interurban, resulting in a six hour advance, resulting in the Southern Pacific is on time, and a greater advance in the event that it is late.

"There was no need to have parcels delayed from 13 to 20 hours, when only 20 miles from their destination," Postmaster Dunn said.

Although this new service has been inaugurated, the Southern Pacific continues to deliver 24 mails destined to Port Arthur.

COMMITTEE O. K. OF PLANS NEAR

'Hot Time in The Old Town' Is Ahead

MANY DETAILS CLEARED

Huge July 4 Features to Dazzle Thousands

Widening in scope, rapidly developing in detail, plans for Port Arthur's Quarter Centennial celebration, July 4, will be laid before the executive committee of the celebration within the next week or ten days.

Responding to letters from Rollin L. Drake, general chairman of the celebration, committee chairman are forming their committees and formulating plans for staging the celebration features, including fireworks, decorations, carnival features, sporting events, advertising and birthday party, lighting the city, and feeding thousands in a mammoth fish fry.

A host of details of the celebration are finally arranged, clearing the way for giving undivided attention to the major details of the birthday party. Drake announced. These features will come up before the celebration's executive committee within the next week or 10 days.

Queen's Crowning

Carnival merriment during the evening hours is one of the big objectives of the celebration, planned to be the greatest ever staged in the southwest. Thousands will be dressed in all manner of carnival attire, Confetti and serpentine paper streamers are to be provided in quantities. The streets will be lighted with huge red flares, and festivities carried far into the night.

In the midst of the carnival hilarity and joyousness, the Queen of the carnival will be crowned in the presence of her court and hosts of "loyal subjects." Around the great throne to be erected in Austin avenue, the carnival throngs will dance while colored searchlights play over them. Arrangements for these and other carnival features are in the hands of Cullen C. Harrell and his committee on carnival events of the celebration.

Thousands of electric lights will be strung across Procter street from Houston avenue to Stillwell boulevard. Shafts of red, white, green, yellow and other colored lights, projected from powerful searchlights, will flash on the carnival crowds in the streets, then skyward and back again to the streets.

The Queen's court will be ablaze with countless electric lights. S. L. McEdden, of the Eastern Texas Light company, is the chairman of the committee appointed to arrange the lighting features.

K K K DEFIES N. Y. ROSTER DICTUM

Refuse to File Names of Membership With State

NEW YORK, May 28.—Thousands of white-robed members of the nights of the Ku Klux Klan, following weeks of meetings held all the way across New York state from Niagara falls to East Port, Long Island, stand today in open defiance of the new state law, which compels filing with the secretary of state the roster of secret societies such as the Klan.

And flaring red torches and before mysterious altars, draped with the American flag, Klansmen pledged themselves to obey the constitution of the Klan, declaring Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York state had signed his political death warrant as far as his presidential aspirations were concerned by supporting the state dictum directed against the Klan.

In consideration of these changes, the delegations from the southern half of the county will agree to pay its pro rata share of the cost of the construction of the bridge across the Neches river at Beaumont, provided the bond fund distribution on a percentage basis among precincts according to taxable valuations, is allowed to stand untested.

The alternative, in event of refusal of acceptance of this proposition by the delegations of Precincts Nos. 1 and 4, is that Precincts Nos. 2 and 3 will refuse to allow any of their pro rata of funds derived from the $2,000,000 road and bridge bond issue to be used in construction of the bridge.

The proposal for a caucus of representatives from communities within Precincts Nos. 2 and 3 was made by Mayor J. P. Logan of Port Arthur. When it was apparent that arguments were considerably stricken and the entire time of the caucus and those present was being wasted.

"Father and Son"

Recalling of individuals as to the big benefits to be derived from a bridge across the Neches, the tourist travel benefits and a cooperation between Beaumont and Port Arthur of a "father and son" nature in order that the bond issue be properly evolved.

Just prior to the suggestion of the caucus and subsequent proposal, Judge Johnson of the court, called into a short consultation at his bench Mayor Logan, H. F. Brinker of Port Arthur, Claude Bracken of Beaumont, Keith of Port Neches and Jim Goodman of Nederland.

The hearing today opened at 10 o'clock. The Port Arthur delegation was called. The men did nothing, nothing was late in arriving and the caucus of H. M. Smith, Judge Johnson called for a report of the Chambers of Commerce committees, which were ordered appointed for a joint getting together of all interests at the termination of the hearing on the same subject a week ago.

It developed that all communities, including Beaumont and Port Arthur, had appointed committees but that the joint meeting was never called. Difficulty in this regard was that other points were looking to Beaumont to take the initiative while that city sidestepped the responsibility.

Consequently the situation was just as it was left at the conclusion of last Monday's hearing.

Bracken claimed that, inasmuch as the committees were ordered appointed to submit a proposition and had not done so, there was nothing before the court to discuss. He declared that the real and only important question to be decided now is whether or not the bridge across the Neches is a county proposition or a precinct proposition. He requested that the court rule on this question first.

DELEGATION TO COMMISSIONERS HURL GAUNTLET

Pt. Arthur Refuses to Recognize Beaumont Claim

CITE 1922 COURT ORDER

Say Precinct 2 Lines of 1920 Must Be Given Back

After a morning before the county commissioners' court in Beaumont in which the real issue was lost sight of in diversities of personal experience talks, the combined delegations of Precincts 2 and 3, comprising the lower half of Jefferson county, held a caucus at noon and with reconvening of the court at 1:30 p. m. today submitted their first concrete proposal of terms upon which the $2,000,000 road and bridge bond issue money distribution may be equitably made.

Road Fund Must Be in Stock

Refusing to recognize that the bridge across the Neches river at Beaumont was the "major item" in the bond issue, as Beaumonters have repeatedly claimed; refusing to allow any settlement of money distribution, except on a per cent basis among county precincts as provided for by an order of the court in August of 1922, the proposal couched in no uncertain terms the only basis of settlement possible—that of changing back the precinct lines of Precinct No. 2 as they stood prior to a redignation by the court in February of 1920, and making the Neches river bridge maintenance and the Port Arthur bridge maintenance county propositions.

This changing of lines would throw property, tank farms, docks, and other miscellaneous property valuations, which were removed from the precinct and placed inside of Precinct No. 4 at the time of the change order.

In consideration of these changes, the delegations from the southern half of the county will agree to pay its pro rata share of the cost of the construction of the bridge across the Neches river at Beaumont, provided the bond fund distribution on a percentage basis among precincts according to taxable valuations, is allowed to stand untested.

The alternative, in event of refusal of acceptance of this proposition by the delegations of Precincts Nos. 1 and 4, is that Precincts Nos. 2 and 3 will refuse to allow any of their pro rata of funds derived from the $2,000,000 road and bridge bond issue to be used in construction of the bridge.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

The next person to go spring cleaning was Grubby Groundhog. Or not Grubby, but his house, I should say. When the Twins and the Ragdolls had cleaned every apartment in Maple Tree Flats, they marched off to Grubby's underground house by the potato patch, and knocked on his front door and his back door and two of his side doors. For Grubby has as many doors to his house as a thimble has dents. "No answer if you please," the Ragdolls knocked the more silent the place seemed. Finally Nancy opened one of the doors a crack and stuck in her head. "Hello," she called. "Anybody at home?" Still no answer, but Mister Tattler's sharp ears had heard some thing "I believe I hear something," he said. "Let's go and see." So they all tipped-toed along the hall and up the stairs to Grubby's bedroom. And there was Mister Grubby Groundhog Enquire as sound asleep as the Sleeping Beauty. All the Ragdolls crowded around his bed and watched him. "Surrrr! Rumph! Surrrr! Rumph!" went Grubby, putting out his sides and his cheeks with each breath. "Wake up," said Nick, shaking him. "You've got company." Very slowly Grubby opened his tiny eyes and looked around. "Great, what cakes?" he cried. "What's happened?" "Nothing," Nancy told him. "Only we want you to go out for awhile until we scrub out your house. It needs a good spring cleaning." Grubby began to shiver and shake. "Brrrr! Not much out once on the second day of February and it was so cold I nearly turned into an icicle." "That," said Nancy. "That was weeks ago. The sweet clover is up now and lots of good things." "Oh, that's different," cried Grubby, and throwing off his bed-clothes he streaked for the door. "Then the Ragdolls got to work." (To be continued.) (Copyright 1932, NEA Service, Inc.)

A Puzzle A Day

The keyboards of various makes of typewriters furnish many interesting studies. On a standard, single-shift machine, a capital letter and the corresponding small letter appear on the same key. What is the smallest number of keys necessary to include all the letters of the alphabet, and the figures 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 0, no two figures appearing on the same key?

The six lettered cards may be formed into the name "Quincy" as shown in the drawing. The dotted lines show the portion of each letter that is hidden by an overlapping card. Thus what appeared to be letter "Q" turns out to have been a "Q" while the "C" may have been mistaken for a "G".

ANNOUNCEMENT

Of the New Location of The Kleas Drug Company
Beginning Today, May 27th At 506 PROCTER STREET

Eastman Kodaks

For fifteen years The Kleas Drug Co. has been located at 428 Procter St. While we have been there, we have acquainted ourselves with a large number of friends. The reason for this is because we have strived at all times to give those who patronize us a kind of service that would be appreciated and in return, we have acquired a large number of friends.

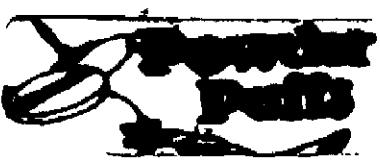

So now in the wake of our moving into our New Location at 506 Procter St., we wish to take this method of thanking all our old friends and invite them to visit with us at this new location. In return for this courtesy, we assure you that we are going to have an even more first class store than we have had heretofore and it will be the aim of every member of this organization to serve our patrons in the most careful and satisfactory manner.

After tomorrow, we will be located at this new location. Our stocks have been increased a great deal to take care of the increased business that we are expecting to do in our new store. So whenever you want anything in the drug line, just call us and we will be more than glad to serve you.

Although "Kleas" has always had the reputation of being one of the most complete Drug Stores in the city, we intend to make this new store more complete if possible than the one from which we have just moved.

Here you will find anything in the line of Drugs, Eastman Kodaks and Supplies, Johnston's Candies, a Complete Toilet Goods Department, a Sundry Department, Stationery, Fountain Pens and Ever-Sharp Pencils, and a full stock of Crude Drugs and Pharmaceuticals for your Prescriptions.

Will you accept our invitation to come to this new store and visit with us any time that it is convenient for you to do so. We want you to make this store, your store when you are up town.

Was Gouled a Victim of Pharaoh's Curse? Parallel Found in Recent Death

PARIS, France, May 25.—George Jay Gould may have been another "victim of the curse of the Pharaohs," according to a dispatch from Memphis telling of a report there since the American's death. Gould visited the tomb and faked with Lord Carnarvon about the superstition. Neither took the Pharaoh legend seriously. In a few days symptoms similar to the strange malady which caused the death of Lord Carnarvon developed in Gould.

SUICIDE VERDICT OF JUDGE JAMES

Mother Pins Wedding Ring to Son's Dress. Drowns

Choosing the waters of the Sabine-Neches canal as a means of ending the alleged despondency that burdened her mother, Mrs. May McNabb, aged 30, was found drowned in the canal at a point near the city ship-end of Shreveport avenue, early Sunday morning.

Her wedding ring, pinned on the dress of her 15-year-old son, whose cries for his mother in the dead of night aroused the family of her brother-in-law, J. J. Payne, 521 Lake Shore drive, with whom she resided, was the only clue that gave surviving relatives any pretension of the tragic occurrence.

Intimate Suicide, Claim

Relatives informed the police that Mrs. McNabb had retired in an apparent cheerful mood, but with the finding of the ring her previous intimations of suicide were recalled, and the record was feared.

Burial This Morning

In the deepest held Sunday a verdict was returned of "death of suicide while temporarily insane."

Burial was made in the Magnolia cemetery, Beaumont, this morning at 10 o'clock. Funeral services were conducted at the graveside by Rev. T. Alex Davis of this city.

Mrs. McNabb, who has been a widow for four years, is survived by her three children, Leslie, 10; Marie, 8; and baby Edward, 1; and her sister, Mrs. J. L. Payne with whom she made her home.

Since his graduation from the Louisiana state university in the engineering class of 1902, Herpin has been engaged in engineering projects in Mexico, the west, and for several years past was city manager in Crowley, La., where also he served four years as trustee of public property.

STUDE INVOKES ANTI-WORK LAW

Accuses Two as Leaders in Applying Feather Coat

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 25.—"Charging that a student masked mob kidnapped him, beat him with paddles and then applied a coat of molasses, glue and feathers," Gordon Holler, 18, Omaha freshman at Des Moines university, today sought to invoke Iowa's anti-mask law against two of his alleged assailants.

Holler filed charges of assault and battery at the same time against William Eaton, 20, and William Clifton, 20, whom he accuses of leading the student mob.

The reason for the attack, Holler said, he was told, was that "he went with two many girls and was not complying with school regulations."

Ladder Truck Needed

With numbers of apartment houses going up in the city, a service and ladder truck is needed, Chief La Rose said today. The heavy aerial, carrying ladders and extra long ladders, is all right for the sections of the city where the streets are paved, but is too heavy to take on the shell streets, he pointed out.

Chief La Rose proposes to remodel a small chemical truck at Central Station into a ladder and service truck, according to plans outlined by L. L. Wolf, instructor and drill master. (Turn to Page 2 Column 4)

PARCELS MAIL GAINS 6 HOURS

Holdover at Beaumont 'Cur' by Inspector

An actual advance of from five to six hours in the delivery of parcels between Port Arthur and Beaumont has been made beginning Saturday. It was learned Monday in a statement from Postmaster S. I. Dunn.

All parcels formerly reaching Beaumont on the 8 and 9:15 night trains were held in Beaumont for morning delivery on the 11 o'clock Southern Pacific.

To prevent this long delay the local postoffice department took the matter up with the postoffice inspector, and beginning Saturday these parcels, which are generally from 20 to 40 in number, are brought to Port Arthur on the 7 o'clock interurban, resulting in a six hour advance, providing the Southern Pacific is on time, and a greater advance in the event that it is late.

"There was no need to have parcels delayed from 12 to 20 hours, when only 20 miles from their destination," Postmaster Dunn said.

Although this new service has been inaugurated, the Southern Pacific continues to deliver 24 miles destined to Port Arthur.

AUTOS CONGEST PIKE AT RACES

Citizens Suggest Remedy For Jam Near Speedway

That some steps should be taken to handle the crowds and that additional provisions should be made at the new Port Arthur Speedway was the consensus of opinion expressed by prominent Port Arthurians here today as a result of congested traffic conditions immediately following the races on the dirt course yesterday afternoon at which a crowd estimated at 8,000 persons was in attendance and several thousand vehicles were jammed.

Suggests More Gates

This morning Frank Potts, traffic manager of the Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce and others today suggested that "there should be two entrance gates at the east end of the speedway, similar to those at the west end, for Port Arthur vehicles to enter. The gates should be maintained at both ends of the field, Port Arthur vehicles being admitted and released at one section of the field, while cars from Beaumont should be held to the west entrance."

The congested traffic conditions developed along the highway and within the park grounds during the midst of the 24-mile free-for-all race. Automobiles carrying both Port Arthurians, Beaumonters and visitors from other points began moving toward the large gates at the west end of the track. (Turn to Page 2 Column 3)

COMMITTEE D. K. OF PLANS NEAR

'Hot Time in the Old Town' Is Ahead

MANY DETAILS CLEARED

Huge July 4 Features to Dazzle Thousands

Widening in scope, rapidly developing in detail, plans for Port Arthur's Quarter Centennial celebration, July 4, will be laid before the executive committee of the celebration within the next week or ten days.

Responding to letters from Rollin L. Drake, general chairman of the celebration, committee chairmen are forming their committees and formulating plans for staging the celebration features, including fireworks, decorations, carnival features, sports events, advertising and birthday party, lighting the city, and feeding thousands in a mammoth fish fry.

A host of details of the celebration are finally arranged, clearing the way for giving undivided attention to the major events of the birthday party. Drake announces. These features will come up before the celebration's executive committee within the next week or 10 days.

Queen's Crowning

Carnival merriment during the evening hours is one of the big objectives of the celebration, planned to be the greatest ever staged in the southwest. Thousands will be dressed in all manner of carnival attire. Confetti and serpentine paper streamers are to be provided in quantities. The streets will be lighted with huge red flares, and festivities carried far into the night.

In the midst of the carnival hilarity and jogginess, the Queen of the carnival will be crowned in the presence of her court and hosts of "loyal subjects." Around the great throne to be erected in Austin avenue, the carnival throng will dance while colored searchlights play over them. Arrangements for these and other carnival features are in the hands of Cullen C. Harrell and his committee on carnival events of the celebration.

Thousands of electric lights will be strung across Procter street from Houston avenue to Stilwell boulevard. Shafts of red, white, green, yellow and other colored lights, projected from powerful searchlights, will flash on the carnival crowds in the streets, then skyward and back again to the streets.

The Queen's court will be ablaze with countless electric lights. S. P. McFadden, of the Eastern Texas Light company, is the chairman of the committee appointed to arrange the lighting features.

City to Be in Gala Attire

Flags and bunting on Procter street from Houston avenue to Stilwell boulevard, decorations on business houses and private homes all over Port Arthur, decoration of the Queen's court, and those are to be devised by Julius Dwyer, chairman of the decorations committee.

Advertising Post Arthur's 25th anniversary party "all over this part of the country, as far east as Lake Charles, or even farther, as far west as Houston; as far north as Jasper; and as far south as Sabine should be entirely covered," Drake advises A. W. Howe, chairman of the advertising committee for the celebration.

Plans for a "monster fish fry" are up to Roy W. Gillett, chairman of the fish fry committee. Drake suggests that Gillett prepare to serve fish and a roll on paper plates.

$45,000 P. O. Bandits Believed in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 25.—Authorities searched the recesses of the St. Louis underworld today for five members of a notorious gangster band, who were believed to have participated in the holdup of the St. Louis, 11 line, postmaster Saturday night, escaping with a $45,000 payroll intended for the Mount Olive and Staunton Coal company.

The license number of the automobile, scribbled down by Postmaster Roberts as the car sped away, was said by St. Louis police to have been that issued to an auto dealer whose car was reported stolen on April 16.

SEARCH FOR STOLEN CLOTHES NETS BOOZE

Searching a local boarding house for clothes, said to be the property of the roomer making the complaint to Constable Tom Wells, resulted in the finding of whiskey behind the bath tub and the discovery of the house, according to Wells.

The landlady, who insisted that the roomer had no clothes in her house, was arrested on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor. The case was placed in the hands of federal authorities.

K K K DEFIES N. Y. ROSTER DICTUM

Refuse to File Names of Membership With State

NEW YORK, May 25.—Thousands of white-robed members of the nights of the Ku Klux Klan, following week-end meetings held all the way across New York state from Niagara falls to East Port Long Island, stand today in open defiance of the new state law, which compels filing with the secretary of state the roster of secret societies such as the Klan.

Amid flaring red torches and before mysterious altars, draped with the American flag, klansmen pledged themselves to obey the constitution of the Klan, declaring Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York state had signed his political death warrant as far as his presidential aspirations were concerned by supporting the state dictum directed against the Klan.

Blackfeet Demand to See Dempsey in Action

GREAT FALLS, Mont., May 25.—Blackfeet Indians, living on a reservation near Shelby, today demanded that they be allowed to attend the coming Dempsey-Gibbons fight.

Meeting in a mammoth pow wow especially to discuss the big holiday event, the redmen voted unanimously that they wished to see the heavyweights clash.

F. W. Campbell, superintendent of the reservation, and he would ask Washington officials to permit the Blackfeet to witness the contest.

TAKES POISON

Houston Man Indicted For Shortage, Suicides

HOUSTON, Texas, May 25.—"I have just taken an ounce of strychnine and will be dead in five minutes," William G. Gammill, 40, told his wife a half hour before deputy sheriffs went to his home to arrest him on charges of embezzlement.

When his wife started to call an ambulance, Gammill retraced his statement. A little later, however, he had convulsions and an ambulance was called. The man died shortly after being taken to a hospital.

Gammill was indicted Saturday by the Harris county grand jury on 15 counts, charging embezzlement. The indictment charge that Gammill embezzled $1,200 from Garraw, McLain and Garraw company, cotton brokers.

The hearing today opened at 10 o'clock. The Port Arthur delegation was late in arriving with the exception of H. M. Smith, Judge Johnson called for a report of the Chambers of Commerce committees, which were ordered appointed for a joint getting together of all interests at the termination of the hearing on the same subject a week ago.

It was charged that all committees, including Beaumont's Port Arthur, had appointed committees but that the joint meeting was never called. Difficulty in this regard was that other points were looking to Beaumont to take the initiative while that city sidestepped the responsibility.

Consequently the situation was just as it was left at the conclusion of last Monday's hearing.

Bracken claimed that, inasmuch as the committees were ordered and had not done so, there was then, nothing before the court to discuss. He declared that the real and only important question to be decided now is whether or not the bridge across the Neches is a county proposition or a precinct proposition. He requested that the court rule on this question first.

George Caswell, Beaumont capitalist, took the floor. He warned the court that the bridge across the Neches is a county proposition or a precinct proposition. He requested that the court rule on this question first.

DELEGATION TO COMMISSIONERS HURL GAUNTLET

Pt. Arthur Refuses to Recognize Beaumont Claim

CITE 1922 COURT ORDER

Say Precinct 2 Lines of 1920 Must be Given Back

After a morning before the county commissioners' court in Beaumont in which the real issue was lost sight of in diversities of personal experience talks, the combined delegations of Precincts 2 and 3, comprising the lower half of Jefferson county, held a caucus at noon and with reconvening of the court at 1:30 p. m. today submitted their first concrete proposal of terms upon which the $2,000,000 road and bridge bond issue money distribution may be equitably made.

Road Fund Must be in Stock
Including to recognize the bridge across the Neches river at Beaumont was the "major item" in the bond issue, as Beaumonters have repeatedly claimed; refusing to allow any settlement of money distribution, except on a per cent basis among county precincts as provided for by an order of the court in August of 1922, the proposal couched in no uncertain terms the only basis of settlement possible—that of changing back the precinct lines of Precinct No. 2 as they stood prior to a reclassification by the court in February of 1920, and making the Neches river bridge maintenance county proposition.

This changing of lines would throw property, tank farms, docks, and other miscellaneous property valuations, which were removed from the precinct and placed inside of Precinct No. 4 at the time of the change order.

In consideration of these changes, the delegations from the south-eastern half of the county will agree to pay its pro rata share of the cost of the construction of the bridge across the Neches river at Beaumont, provided the bond fund distribution on a percentage basis among precincts according to taxable valuations, is allowed to stand unchanged.

The alternative, in event of refusal of acceptance of this proposition by the delegations of Precincts Nos. 1 and 4, is that Precincts Nos. 2 and 3 will refuse to allow any of their pro rata of funds derived from the $2,000,000 road and bridge bond issue to be used in construction of the bridge.

The proposal for a caucus of representatives from communities within Precincts Nos. 2 and 3 was made by Mayor J. T. Logan of Port Arthur when it was apparent that arguments were considerably sidetracked and the entire time of the court and those present was being wasted.

"Father and Son"
Reeling of individuals as to the big benefits to be derived from a bridge across the Neches, the tourist travel benefits and a cooperation between Beaumont and Port Arthur in a "father and son" proposition, evolved the hearing into an "experience testing" session, but not an issue.

Just previous to the suggestion of the caucus and subsequent proposal, Judge Johnson at the court called into a short consultation at his bench Mayor Logan, H. P. Bracken of Port Arthur, Claude Bracken of Beaumont, Keith of Port Neches and Jim Geodun of Nederland.

The hearing today opened at 10 o'clock. The Port Arthur delegation was late in arriving with the exception of H. M. Smith, Judge Johnson called for a report of the Chambers of Commerce committees, which were ordered appointed for a joint getting together of all interests at the termination of the hearing on the same subject a week ago.

8,000 Witness First Races on New Track Sunday Afternoon

Melaun, Kathcart and Saunders Ride to Victory Over Speedway Finish Line; Two Drivers Hurt in Feature Event When Cars Collide.

WILLE approximately 8,000 persons from Port Arthur, Beaumont, Kountze, Orange, Lake Charles and numerous other places rose to their feet and shouted, "Wild Bill" Mellaun and Austin Kathcart rode to victory over the finish line yesterday on the new Port Arthur Speedway, clipping off paces of time that often held the spectators breathless.

The racing was not devoid of accident. In the first turn, Roy Huston, local driver, encountered the misfortune of being knocked by Norris, driving car No. 7. Hudson, and was forced from the running with a bruised shoulder and a crippled Dodge. Huston carried Norris several hundred feet before he could bring the "Maid Special" to a standstill. The most serious accident of the afternoon occurred when Johnnie Lee of Houston overtook on the first lap of the feature race, and was driven into the main grandstand by the Houston speedster handled by Henry Bradshaw. Both drivers were injured, and the race was delayed for some time.

Bradshaw and Lee were rushed from the course in a ambulance and given medical attention in Beaumont. They were reported this morning as "resting easy."

Lee was picked up from the track in a condition of confusion, and was taken to the hospital. His car was a total wreck, and was viewed after the crash by hundreds of spectators who rushed to the spot on the east curve where "Wild Bill" Mellaun shot across the finish line in his Fronty Ford with a record time of 19:30 for the 24 miles and a possible pace for the track.

Mellaun's time for the 24 miles was probably set as a record time, and other famous southern dirt-track artists to run against, and the race itself held the crowd to the course with eyes alert to the final turn. Mellaun gave a close race by Mike Guseman, driving a Walker Fronty Ford, and by Jack Saunders in one of the "Maid Special" Dodies as well. For the first four laps, the race was a close one between Saunders and Mellaun, and Saunders was eventually passed by Mellaun, then came Guseman and his Fronty to finish second.

Huston jumped into a big lead in the opening race, a 12-mile sprint, and was forced from the running when Norris' mounted him. The contest soon simmered to Jack McArver in a Reid Special, Jack Saunders in a Dodge and Mellaun in his famous Fronty Ford, which took the record for a dirt track at 8:45 miles per hour. The finish brought a real thrill, when Saunders shot across the line in 10:37 for the distance, an average time of 79.1 miles per hour, with Bradshaw and Mellaun coming in behind in the order named. Bradshaw's time was 10:46 4-5, while Mellaun made the 12 in 11:01.

The second event of the course for the 8,000 spectators was a consolation race for non-winners in the opening contest. Nine entries took position in the race, with the "Maid Special" Dodge driven by Huston again entered, this time handled by Jack Saunders. Saunders finished the event with a time of 11:52 2-5, while Miller, driving a Mercer, and Guseman in his Fronty Ford, followed close in order, the second car in making the turn in 11:53 3-5, and Guseman making the 12 in 12:32 2-5.

A real thriller for the mile and a half race developed, for the third event when four first motorcycles were entered in the lists from the start of a motorcycle race. The contest soon settled to a Harley-Davidson and an Indian, with the Indian leading one lap and the Harley on the next. The Indian, ridden by Carl Peters of San Antonio, was finally forced to slacken his speed due to engine trouble, and the Harley jumped a lap in the lead to finish with a time of 1:24 3-5 for the 12-mile race. Austin Kathcart drove the speedster and took a curve, pounding into the straight-of-way in such fashion as to thrill his auditors. Barney Ray, on an Excelsior, finished second and Carl Peters wound up in the show position.

The fourth race of the day brought the real thrills and the worst mishap of the races as well. It was on the second turn when the crash-up came, and the race was then left to the tussle between Mellaun, Guseman and Saunders.

Next Sunday will see the majority of the same runners on the Houston Speedway, and the following week-end will find them again in Port Arthur.

ATHLETICS COME SARATOGA HOLDS BACK TO LIFE ELKIES TO TIE

Create Upset in Pennant Race Past Week

NEW YORK, May 28.—Through the sudden and rather unexpected return to life of the Philadelphia Athletics, a "pinch" pennant in the major leagues has been temporarily, if not permanently avoided.

While the national league has failed to develop a team that looks to have even a small chance of beating the Giants, the American League has jumped to the front with the prospect of a tight contest between the Yankees, the Athletics, and possibly one of the western clubs that may get around to pre-season training.

The Giants have a lead of six and one-half games, and it is being taken for granted that the world's championship will be "up" again before the end of the season. The Reds have been a terrible failure, the Cards will be badly crippled by the injury to Rogers Hornsby and the Pirates, good as they seem, will have to act better off the field than recent occurrences in Boston indicate they are acting.

In the American League the Yankees have a lead of four and a half games; but with the Athletics going as they are, that margin is none too great.

Cleveland Indians are having trouble, the Browns will never get any place without George Sisler and the Tigers are said to have been razed off form by Ty Cobb. Cy Williams, the tall Phila outfielder, is furnishing a feature of the season by his drive for home run record. Williams has five more homers than Babe Ruth had on May 27 in his record year of 1921. It must be considered, too, that the season started a week later this year than it did in 1921, and that Williams has about 40 more games in the hand box Philadelphia park.

ON WARPATH

SHREVEPORT, La., May 28.—San Antonio went on a batting rampage in the first and ninth innings and hammered Shreveport for an 8 to 4 victory. The Boat-routed Schilling after one was out and five runs had been scored off his delivery. Johnson relieved him and hurled airtight ball until the ninth when he was touched for three runs. The Gassers routed Payne before a man was out in the third and Roberts, who relieved him was effective.

Score by innings:
San Antonio 500 000 003—8 16 3
Shreveport 011 020 000—4 6 1
Payne, Roberts and Coleman; Schilling, Johnson and Chaplin.

HOUSTON BEATEN

DALLAS, Texas, May 28.—Mathes, Vache, Donohue and Segrist bunched their hits off Marvin Goodwin and Dallas ran up a 7 to 1 victory over Houston. Mitchell was in great form, holding Houston to four hits, but a double and a single were clustered in the fourth for one run.

Score by innings:

ISLAND TAKES SABINE CREW TO FAST CLASH

Local Squad Checks: Winning Streak 5 to 2

By VAN ANDRUS

SABINE, Texas, May 28.—Skipper Tommy Gardner's City League Island crew dove into town here yesterday and took upon their shoulders the task of checking the Sabine winning streak. They did it, unusually well, to the tune of 5 to 2.

Karnaky, who hauled for the Port Arthurians, pitched airtight baseball and gathered great support in the pincches. He struck out 11 of those who faced him, and issued four passes to the initial bag during the encounter, while Sapp, the star hurler of the Sabine nine, found three for whiffs and allowed none to walk.

Double plays and sensational bingles featured the contest, the Sabine boys getting the lead on the former while the Port Arthurians gathered the belt for the latter, with a total of 11 hits.

Punk, Gilchrist, Lenzay and Thomas featured the slugging for the visiting skipper, and to the credit of Punk, Karnaky and Sapp goes the honor of having presented the most consistent games. They played great baseball, and pulled themselves together when hitting and fielding counted.

The Islanders scored their runs in the early stages of the issue, and Karnaky held the Sabine boys scoreless until the seventh and eighth frames; the rally they sprang then came late and was too weak to win. The defeat over Sabine is the first time in 25 consecutive findings they have been scored on. They have taken on several Port Arthur crews into camp, but it lay in the hands of the Islanders to take the tip out of their cap. The score:

GIBBONS LANDS IN SHELBY SOON

Town Gets Its First Martial Atmosphere

SHELBY, Mont., May 28.—With the arrival of Tommy Gibbons here this week, to start his training for his fight with Jack Dempsey on July 4, Shelby will get its first real martial atmosphere.

Work on the arena is progressing rapidly and the advance sale of tickets continues beyond expectations. The promoters estimated today $400,000 worth of orders have been placed on file and that from $5,000 to $10,000 are coming daily.

Feeling that the Dempsey-Gibbons fight is now sure of being a tremendous success in every way, prominent business men of this section are planning to make such an offer for the proposed Dempsey-Willis fight on Labor Day that no eastern promoters will be able to better it.

Baseball Quiz

Questions
ONE—Can a batsman be removed any time, even if he is a pinch hitter and has had several balls pitched to him?

TWO—Does the umpire ever make a ruling on a play where the runner misses a base unless an appeal is made to him?

THREE—If two are out and a runner on first is hit by a batted ball, which retires the side, does the batsman get credit for a hit?

FOUR—What is the penalty, if a batsman changes from one side of the plate to the other while the pitcher is in the act of delivering the ball?

Answers
ONE—A batsman can be removed at any time and another player substituted for him. If several balls have been pitched he simply takes the count that existed on the batsman.

TWO—The umpire never makes a ruling on a play in which the runner misses a base unless the play is properly made and the umpire is appealed to for a ruling.

THREE—At all times when a runner is hit by a batted ball and declared out, the batsman receives credit for a hit.

FOUR—The batsman has no such right and is declared out for so doing.

END LOSING STREAK

CINCINNATI, May 28.—The Reds broke their losing streak of six straight games by defeating St. Louis, 2 to 1, in a pitchers' battle. The locals scored in the first on a pass and a triple by Roush and again in the fifth on a pass, an error by Tony and two sacrifice hits. Lague blanked the visitors until the ninth, when errors by Bohne and Roush saved them from a shutout.

DEATH GOES ON AFTER ONE DIES

Thousand of Man Dead 10
Years Grows, is Claim

LONDON, Eng., May 28.—The assertion that your brain can go on living for years after you are dead sounds startling. An eminent biologist of world-wide repute, who discovered a cure for gangrene during the war, has added to his laurels by demonstrating in the most practical way possible that brain tissue can actually be kept alive, and even growing, indefinitely.

He has in his possession, and has shown to a distinguished colleague, portions of the connective tissue of the brain of a man who has been dead for ten and a half years. These fragments are alive and "going strong."

These portions of the brain are kept alive artificially very much in the same way as they were kept alive naturally by their owner during his lifetime. That is to say, they are fed on lymph (blood's chief essential), absorbing their nourishment through the surface.

Living Tissues May Have Feeling.
It is probable that these living tissues of a man long dead have some feeling and are, like those spirits that "come through" at seances, quite happy. They are said with certainty to grow and become rudimentary in character, and at present show every prospect of continuing to do so.

It is recognized now that even nerve cells and fibers will continue to grow and develop apart from the body if placed repeatedly in a fresh nutritive medium and looked after with the greatest care. And it is an old story now that the human heart has been known to continue beating for hours after death, and that hearts after removal from the body can be made to continue their usual functions simply by providing them with a suitable fluid medium from which they can obtain food and other materials they require.

Brain and Skin Grafting.
Even now the possibilities of brain-grafting present themselves. Skin-grafting and bone-grafting are done successfully every day. Some day, perhaps, we shall have mastered the technique of removing the tissues of one man's brain when he is dead and grafting them to the brain of a living person.

Parts of animals—bone, glands, and so on—have already been grafted with the best results, and there is no reason known to science why what is possible with the lower animals and man should not also be possible with man himself and man.

The future holds possibilities of the removal of diseased patches of brain tissue in the living, and the substitution for them of healthy brain matter. In this way it might be possible to obviate the worst effects—paralysis of movement and sensation—resulting from a small area of brain having been put out of action by accident or disease.

Insanity and Epilepsy.
Many cases of incurable insanity, epilepsy and kindred abnormalities of the brain are due to a small area of diseased cerebral tissue, which might be removed and replaced by perfectly healthy material.

Whether it will ever be possible to graft portions of dead brains on the brains of living mechanities remains to be seen. But we in our final nature are too many for us in all attempts to found a race of supermen. There are many difficulties to be overcome before surgeons can handle and explore the contents of the living skull as freely as they do that of the rest of the body.

Soldier Of Fortune Is Given Card For Free Meals In 380 Cafes

NEW YORK, May 28.—Capt. Patrick O'Hay, man of many occupations who has survived many lean days in his fifty-two years, faces an era of obesity.

The Society of Restaurateurs presented him with a good card which will permit him to eat without cost in any one of the organization's 380 restaurants in New York City.

Captain O'Hay has known lean days in many countries in his career, embracing gunner, mullet, coal passer, sailor, cattle puncher, actor, bad carrier, salesman, lecturer, after dinner speaker and participant in seven wars. Virtually all the best restaurants along Broadway now are open to this war-torn hero because he usually remained at a banquet a few days ago that his most acute problem was that of eating between wars.

Captain O'Hay is said to have been the leading figure in Richard Harding Davis' "Soldiers of Fortune" and to have numbered Jack London as one of his intimates. He holds various war decorations, including the American D. S. C., the British D. S. O., and D. S. M., and the French Croix de Guerre.

Alaskan Native Hears Radio; to Take Down Wire Worth 1700 Pelts

POINT BARROW, Alaska, May 28.—Ela Ulick, a rich native spent $1,900 worth of polar bear skins buying wire to string a telephone line from Fort Yukon, so he might entertain his friends by listening to music and conversation from afar. Last week an Eskimo neighbor entertained the settlement with a program by radio from Nome, Juneau, Japan and Seattle. Ulick cannot understand how the music and speeches came from the air without wires and he says he will pull down his wire and use it for a reindeer corral.

THE FEAR OF DIRT

One fly can carry enough germs to infect twelve hundred people with Typhoid Fever. Fear forces people to buy many things. Fear of flies in summertime makes us buy screens, fly-paper, ice boxes, etc. We are justified in fearing the fly. Yet there is one nuisance greater than flies, mosquitoes, bad teeth or damp weather—it is lack of sanitation. Disease comes from filthy washrooms, toilets, poor drainage and leaky pipes. Get busy and fight disease with bath tubs, showers, clean closets and the like. Call on us for modern sanitary plumbing.

CONVICT ESCAPE WOUNDS DEPUTY

Sheriff Heads Posse at Maraland, Victim May Die

GRAPELAND, Texas, May 25.—A posse of citizens headed by Sheriff Bob Hale, searched this section early today for a man believed to be Tom Davis, escaped murder convict, who shortly before midnight, probably fatally wounded Deputy Sheriff Jeff English here.

English was wounded with a shot in the leg when he and Sheriff Hale attempted to arrest two suspicious characters. One of the men, R. L. Clark, was captured by Hale, but the other, named Clark and he and Davis escaped from the state penitentiary at Huntsville last Thursday.

Clark had been serving a 10-year sentence for burglary, and Davis a similar sentence for murder, the forger said.

The entire countryside was told of the shooting by a special crew of telephone girls early this morning, and was believed Davis would be captured before the end of the day.

Scalded, He Tells Them
Boiler Will Explode

NEW YORK, May 25.—Scalding in clouds of live steam, Hugh Kirk, engineer of a homeward bound "picnic train" wrecked in Van Cortlandt park, New York, warned rescuers away.

"I am going to die, anyway," he said, "please stand back. This boiler is liable to explode any minute."

One man crawled into the cab and attempted to extricate the engineer, but failed. He finally retreated, with blistered hands and face.

Fuguen finally removed Kirk but he died at the hospital a few minutes later.

Nine passengers were slightly injured. The wreck occurred on the edge of the municipal golf links and scores of Sunday golfers helped the passengers. A timber thrown across the track by boys playing train bandits is believed to have caused the wreck.

Sox Player, Son of Pastor and Gotham 'Follies' Girl Elope

CHICAGO, May 25.—Elopement and marriage of Miss Ethel Virginia "Billie" Stanfield, Follies girl, and Alford J. Klave, son of Congressman O. K. Bronson, Minn., became known here today.

The couple were married at Crown Point, Ind., after a month's romance which began when Miss Stanfield was attracted by Klave at the Rodeaux cafe, where he played as saxophone in the orchestra, their friends said.

The groom's father is a minister and is the successor of Congressman Volstead.

The bride is the daughter of a contractor in Baltimore.

Paternal blessings have been given the elopers according to Klave.

8 Pallbearers Too Few For 900 Pound Corpse

PRINCETON, Ont., May 25.—Eight pallbearers were not enough to carry the body of the late John Lewis, whose funeral took place the other day, and they had to be assisted. Lewis, who was seventy-seven years old and a well known resident, weighed 900 pounds.

A special casket had to be manufactured 1 foot wide and 3 feet high, and without the body weighed 500 pounds. Instead of a motor hearse a sturdy wagon drawn by a team was used.

BANDIT SLAIN

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 25.—Kenneth Smith, confessed postoffice bandit held in the local jail for trial in federal court, was shot and instantly killed by Jailer Jammon in an attempted jail delivery last night.

Smith was arrested with Rube Waters and Arthur Ray on a charge of robbing the postoffice at Blood Land, Mo., last month. The trio were planning a dash for liberty, it was discovered after the shooting. Waters and Ray are alleged members of a Kansas City bandit gang.

CATTLEMAN SUICIDES

CRAIG, Colo., May 25.—Myron Robbins, old-time cattleman and home owner of this region, was found a suicide in his house on Lone Mountain, seventy miles west of Craig, Sunday. He had ended his life by slitting his throat with a razor. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Mary Cochran, of Denver.

FORD AGITATES DEMO-LEADERS

Non-Party Attitude Bothers Politicians

WASHINGTON, May 28.—If Henry Ford would play the game according to the rules democratic politicians lay down for him, he could have the democratic nomination for vice president in 1924.

Ford will refuse the vice presidential nomination, if it is offered to him. He will refuse to play the political game according to any set of ancient rules made by party politicians.

Upsets Royal Tradition
He doesn't care a whoop for party loyalties or party services or even for parties, by all of which the politicians set great store.

Democratic politicians are worried about the Ford for president movement which their experienced observers tell them is sweeping the west and middlewest. Public contentions towards Ford and his possibilities in private, leading democrats have given earnest consideration to means of making Ford one of two things. These are:

1.—Establish himself as a "regular" democrat in good standing and by performing service for the party show himself entitled to party honors.

2.—Eliminate himself from consideration as a democratic nominee.

They cannot figure out a way to do either, simply because Ford will not play politics the way the politicians are used to playing it.

Recognizing Ford's popular strength, various democratic candidates would like to make a deal with him to accept the vice presidential nomination. They have received no encouragement. Ford has said he is not interested in the presidency. The politicians do not believe him, but they do know he is not interested in the vice presidency.

William Randolph Hearst's effort to hook his third party to the Ford popularity has gotten no where thus far. Indications are that Ford does not want to tie to any man or any movement, either as democratic candidate or as an independent.

Platform, and by means of the most unpolitical methods ever seen in American politics, his friends say.

SPECIAL POLICE OFFICERS 'FIRED'

Chief Word Cancels Commissions Today

Port Arthur's special police officers, under the administration of Police Chief M. B. Ward were out of a job today.

Their commissions were cancelled today by Chief Word, he announced, on the eve of his retirement from office before W. W. Covington, elected chief in the city's unopposed election, goes into the office.

"Members of the regular police force have given no indication that they intend to resign," Chief Word said. "Of course I don't know what the incoming chief plans to do with the present force," he said.

All other city officers elected in the recent city elections also enter upon their new administration Tuesday. Mayor J. L. Logan, mayor for the past two years, becomes Port Arthur's first full time mayor.

Ben H. Wiley, elected finance commissioner and appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of A. A. Poter, is a new city official starting his two-year administration Tuesday.

For B. J. Wade, commissioner of public property and improvements, Tuesday will mark the opening day of his service on a second term as a member of the city commission.

Vernor J. Wisner, appointed city attorney following the resignation of A. W. Dwyer, starts Tuesday on a two-year term, the first city attorney elected in Port Arthur.

MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 28.—Reaching on a considerable scale in stock which last week's recovery was a nature at sentiment to the abrupt character of the recent rally in many sections of the list. Following a further display of strength at the opening this tendency to take profits became more pronounced in American, Canadian, California Petroleum, Standard and other industrial favorites which had experienced perpendicular rebounds of from 7 to 20 points from recent lows.

But instead of developing into a general selling movement, this depreciation resulted in nothing more than a diversion of speculative attention. Ralls were taken up on an active scale and some substantial advances were secured by standard issues of the calibre of New York Central, Union Pacific and Atchafalpa. This strength is based on the theory that a dozen or more of the stronger leaders will show practically record earnings this year if incomes hold out through the coming months proportionately to the showing to the first of May and that most systems will have the best year since war times.

The market closed irregular. U. S. Steel 94 1/2, off 1/2. American Loco 11 1/2, up 1/2. Pullman 134 1/2, up 1/2. California Petroleum 11 1/2, off 1/2. Marland 50, up 1/2. Showing at the start of the week showed a striking recovery from the pessimism prevailing a week ago when the market was under the influence of the recent selling movement. This renewed cheerfulness, particularly resented from the substantial rally in the stock values in the preceding sessions which caused speculative opinion to over-commit itself away from the view that the economic situation was on the threshold of a prolonged reaction.

This belief reflected further impairment in the favorable character of the April railroad statement which appeared over the week end. New York Central was the outstanding feature of the market in the early morning, reaching a new high on the move at 57 1/2 in response to an increase of $2,000,000 in net income for month over April 1922. Other standard and rails were in active demand and closed in the best level seen on the current recovery.
